

Stevens Institute of Technology

We collaborate with the Stevens Institute of Technology Division of Communications and Marketing as an extension of their office.

Stevens is built on a legacy of innovation, student success and outcomes, and supports a uniquely entrepreneurial and innovative culture, while inspiring and educating leaders in tomorrow's technology-centric environment. Our efforts capitalize on their momentum and we create marketing communications that extend their brand to potential students, current students, parents, high school counselors, peer institutions, faculty and employers, emphasizing that Stevens is a leading, forward-thinking research university with world-class facilities and faculty, outstanding resources and students, tremendous student outcomes and easy access to New York City.

Our print and digital projects have included email campaigns, landing pages, reputation initiatives, brochures, prospectuses, ads and logos. Stevens is celebrating their 150th anniversary in 2020 and we will continue to support them through this important milestone, working together on critical projects as their worldwide reputation grows.
